

Brain Damage

Brain Size

In his video, Dr Bean mentioned that spike protein causes a significant reduction in brain size . \(40\) Brand New Study: Spike Protein Accumulates in Brain and Skull and Causes Damage - YouTube

Cognitive Impairment

There are also papers showing that the spike protein produces cognitive deficit –

Brain Exposure to Spike

You might think the spike does not reach the brain, but unfortunately it does, and through more than one route.

COVID Vaccine Turns You into a Spike Factory

Unfortunately, the COVID vaccine causes your cells to produce the spike protein – turning your own cells into factories for this brain-damaging toxin. And not just for a short while, but for at least 2 months post injection.

During those two months spike circulates THROUGHOUT your body.

BOTH the virus AND the vaccine produce the Spike protein, and as you have seen above, it is the Spike alone that generates the symptoms of long COVID in both cases. So, is it really surprising that some people experience “long-COVID” symptoms after vaccination?

It's like using petrol to put out a fire.

WHO Ambitions

Public Private Partnerships are a new form of government, but such partnerships have allowed government administrators to be rewarded by private enterprise for providing exemption from regulation, and short circuiting safety studies.

Despite the obvious dangers of mRNA vaccines listed above, proposed regulations show that the WHO sees no problem with issuing mandates that compel member states to enforce this vaccination upon their populations.

The WHO also sees no problem in enforcing the surveillance of the populations of member states, to ensure that such vaccine policies are never challenged by any scientific or medical body – thereby perpetuating the use of these dangerous drugs indefinitely – since no one can challenge them.

Not Taking Their Own Medicine

The people pushing these horrific jabs are not taking the jabs themselves, for the very good reason that they know it damages brain, heart, liver... Tedros himself has not been vaccinated. He says that this is because he does not want to deprive an Ethiopian of a scarce vaccine. The number of unused vaccines is huge, so he need not worry about scarcity. Ethiopians could kindly offer him a spare vaccine – perhaps one that he earmarked for their vulnerable infants. Before his appointment as director of WHO, Tedros was accused of genocide by the people of Ethiopia – ambition and willingness to deploy toxic medications must have been the recruitment criteria.
